DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-4,6-11,13-20,22-29,31-35, and 37 are allowable over the prior art of record.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As per the independent claims 1,10,17,28, and 35, the recited claim language pertaining to determining a best recognized text stream by assessing agreement between the plurality of text streams to determine an interim best recognized text stream, routing the interim best result to a plurality of devices and modifying the interim best text stream and arbitrating these modifications, are not explicitly taught by the prior art of record.

Angell et al (US 6513003) teaches a method/computer medium for collaborative speech recognition in a network (Fig. 1,(102)) and producing a plurality of text streams from the best quality audio stream by at least one recognition device (Col 3, Line 49 -53).

Warnock et al (U.S. 6151576) teaches the use of text stream reliability measure [choosing the best text stream] at the output of a speech recognition system (Col 4, Lines 10 - 20).

Tai et al (6618704) teaches the use of several audio sensors using audio selectors that calculates the best audio source in order to determine the choice of camera. However, none of the prior art, taken alone or in combination, teach the recited limitations noted above pertaining to the arbitrating of interim best recognition phrases to determine the final best recognition phrase. Furthermore, it would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of speech recognition to modify the teachings of the prior art of record to obtain the recited limitations of the independent claims noted above.

The dependent claims have been determined to be allowable over the prior art of record because these claims depend from claims that have been determined to be allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
